Design a Stamp by Sue Lewis, Curator of Education

This is a picture of the U.S. postage stamp that honors Wilma Rudolph and her Olympic accomplishments. It was issued in 2004.

Think of someone who is special to you. This might be a person who has helped you with a project, a person who has done something amazing, or a best friend.

Draw a picture of someone special on the blank stamp below.

We use stamps to show that we have paid to have a letter mailed. In 2004, it cost 23 cents to mail a letter. Find out how much it costs today.

YUCKY STAMP FACT Before 1992, most stamps had to be licked to make them stick!
